Contents Volume 42

Comparative adaptation of canola (Brassica napus) and Indian mustard (B. juncea) to soil water deficits: yield and yield components
P.R. Wright (Armidale, N.S.W., Australia), J.M. Morgan (Tamworth, N.S.W., Australia), R.S. Jessop and A. Cass (Armidale, N.S.W., Australia) 1

Field responses of grain sorghum to a salinity gradient
E. Igartua, M.P. Gracia and J.M. Lasa (Zaragoza, Spain) 15

Nitrogen fertilization and row width affect self-thinning and productivity of fibre hemp (Cannabis sativa L.)
H.M.G. Van der Werf (Wageningen, Netherlands), W.C.A. Van Geel (Lelystad, Netherlands), L.J.C. Van Gils and A.J. Haverkort (Wageningen, Netherlands) 27

Stem-nodulating legumes as relay-cropped or intercropped green manures for lowland rice
R.O. Torres, R.P. Pareek, J.K. Ladha and D.P. Garrity (Manila, Philippines) 39

Agronomic and physiological responses of sorghum, maize and pearl millet to irrigation
B.R. Singh and D.P. Singh (Hisar, India) 57

Physiological bases for yield differences in selected maize cultivars from Central America
J. Bolaños (Oficina, Guatemala) 69

Assessing strategies for wheat cropping in the monsoonal climate of the Pampas using the CERES-Wheat simulation model
R. Savin, E.H. Satorre, A.J. Hall and G.A. Slafer (Buenos Aires, Argentina) 81

Kernel mass and assimilate accumulation of wheat: cultivar responses to 50% spikelet removal at anthesis
Y.-Z. Ma, C.T. MacKown and D.A. Van Sanford (Lexington, KY, USA) 93

Yield trends of a long-term NPK experiment for intensive rice monoculture in the Mekong River Delta of Viet Nam
P.S. Tan, T.N. Anh, N.V. Luat (Omon, Cantho, Viet Nam) and D.W. Puckridge (Bangkok, Thailand) 101

Genotype × environment influence on cassava performance
S.L. Tan and C. Mak (Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia) 111

Effect of sowing date on rates of leaf appearance, final leaf numbers and areas in Brassica campestris, B. juncea, B. napus and B. carinata
R. Nanda, S.C. Bhargava (New Delhi, India) and H.M. Rawson (Canberra, A.C.T., Australia) 125

Automatic plant extension measurement in sugarcane in relation to temperature and soil moisture
N.G. Inman-Bamber (Natal, South Africa) 135
